‘Engineering innovative sporting solutions’

Professor Stephen Turnock

Head of Southampton University Performance Sports Engineering Laboratory

The University of Southampton has established a global reputation for performance sports engineering over four decades. Its world-leading design, test capabilities, outstanding innovation and technical expertise have contributed to British success in winning gold medals in cycling, skeleton bobs and swimming at the 2008, 2012 and 2016 Olympic Games.

Join us for a lecture from Professor Stephen Turnock, FIMechE, Head of the University’s Performance Sports Engineering Laboratory, who will offer an insight into the engineering of new and innovative sporting solutions and developments.

Wednesday 7th December periods 7 and 8
in The Sports Hall at BWS
